May Day at Conscious Body

Spring may have included snow, wind, sleet and frigid cold, but it has also brought sun, warmth and that feeling that we should get out and enjoy nature.

Spring has always meant change to me. It has also been the little push I need to renew myself.

This spring I encourage you to do just that. Take a good, hard look at your diet, your exercise routine (or lack thereof!), your tendency to allergies, your symptoms and your mindset.

Let us help you make this year the best year ever. The year that you focus on setting up the rest of your life!
